ALIMONY SETTLEMENT

Husband, Worth Half Million,
To Pay Her $4,250 Each Year

Mrs. Bernice C. Gaines has been granted a divorce from Alvin D. Gaines, one of the wealthiest land owners in western North Dakota by Judge Wm. L. Nuegale, on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.

Mrs. Gaines' story of the case revealed the climb of the couple to wealth, through joint efforts and careful husbanding of resources. The passion for wealth grew upon Gaines, she declared, and led to extreme penuriousness though it was found by the court that he was worth approximately $500,000.

In the settlement, made outside of court, it is provided, that Mrs. Gaines shall receive $37,500 in cash, property in Minneapolis worth approximately $10,000 and a yearly allowance of $4,250 for which property valued at about $75,000 is pledged as security for the payments. The couple have one son, Bertie, who is a student in a military academy in Los Angeles. The Gaines were school teachers in Minnesota when they started their climb toward wealth. Their great estate came in 1900 when Gaines purchased 30,000 acres of land from the Northern Pacific railroad in Oliver county, according to the complaint. Their joint savings, it was claimed, went to make first payment. Gaines sold off thousands of acres and still has about 15,000 acres left, it is said. He owns property in Minneapolis, where they lived for a few years, Bismarck, and in Barnes, Mercer and Oliver counties.

Tells of Treatment.

The "cruel and inhuman" treatment, according to Mrs. Gaines' allegations, consisted chiefly in upbraidings and terrible scoldings, no bodily harm being alleged. The defendant's extreme penuriousness, which required an accounting even of pennies, is indicated in the complaint as the chief cause of the alleged bad treatment.

The Gaines made their residence at Sanger, N. D., most of the time, but have resided in Minneapolis and California at varying intervals. Gaines achieved notoriety during the war when the Council of Defense summoned him to state why some of his land would be very glad to have it cultivated, but later he became involved in a law suit when a farmer was alleged to have entered on his land and planted crops, bearing permission of the Council of Defense.

Began Teaching.

The couple were married in the village of Hamilton, Minn., Aug. 3, 1885. Gaines was 35 and his wife 18 at that time. They moved to Alexandria, Minn., three years after the marriage when the defendant became superintendent of the city schools and she became a teacher. Later he became county superintendent. She said she gave music lessons to 20 or 25 pupils, in addition to her regular teaching, and sold pianos. They spent three years as instructors in the academic school of the Department of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, and in 1900 Gaines made his big purchase of land. He sold off much land, retaining the best, she said.

Mrs. Gaines alleged that "commencing shortly after the marriage of these parties the defendant without cause or justification has continuously, oppressively and methodically treated the plaintiff with extreme cruelty in that assuming that he was her absolute master and she his abject slave he has pursued a long, consistent course of unkind and brutal treatment of the plaintiff.

Among her allegations as to his alleged stinginess she asserted that during April, 1903, when they were coming back from California he insisted that they limit their expenditure for a meal on a dining car to 75 cents or $1.00 for them and their son. She claimed that when her father died suddenly in Oregon of pneumonia the defendant scolded and abused her shamefully because of her natural evidences of grief. She recited that a ladder used in their home at Sanger to get to the second floor was replaced in 1917 with a stairway.

Mrs. Gaines is said to be a musician of ability and has received a small income from compositions which she has published.

Gaines had answered the complaint of his wife with a complete denial of the alleged inhuman treatment. The divorce was effected some what through agreement of parties, it is understood. Mrs. Gaines was represented by G. F. Dullam, of Newton Dillam and Young, with association of John R. Ward of Minneapolis and Mr. Gaines by W. H. Stutsman, of Mandan.

IRENE CURIE WINS THROUGH CURIOSITY

BY MARIAN HALE

New York, May 25.—"My mother said to me, 'Do Americans children really trade first teeth for dead cats?' 'Mon Dieu!' I cried, 'what is it?'" Irene Curie threw back her head and laughed.

"And what do you suppose she answered? 'I've been reading 'Tom Sawyer' and I want to know if the typical American child is wicked.' Mother is so curious."

There Irene Curie struck the keynote of the impelling motive that has made Madame Curie one of the world's foremost scientists—the discoverer of the world's most precious substance, radium.

But the mother has more appreciation of science than of humor.

Irene Curie is her mother's second self—a student working for her degree, pursuing independent researches, aiding her mother in her laboratory.

The other daughter, Eve, visiting America with them, is quite different. "Eve is giddy," says the simple, somber Irene. "But of that mother and I are glad. Eve is unthinking and unscientific. It is to protect people like Eve that people like mother and I must work in laboratories."

"But Eve is the light in our lives. Why should anyone want her to make tests all day instead of dancing? You might as well wish that I danced instead of experimenting."

The Human Stage.

"It is all in the great human drama, isn't it? One lifts the curtain—and one drops it—and that is all. We are each appointed and we take our place, and if we are wise we do it with the utmost simplicity."

I referred to Madame Curie's great discovery and to her husband, who also was a scientist and associated with her in her researches.

"Mother, you know, think that men and women do better if they marry," she said. "She thinks they do better especially if they have the same interests and can work together. But, this is important, mother discovered radium alone!"

I asked whether her mother opposed the use of radium for commercial purposes, believing it all should be conserved for scientific researches and uses.

"Mother thinks only of science, not of commerce," she said.

And to this further inquiry, "What does your mother think of America?" his was the reply:

"We haven't had time to think. An answer now would be superficial. And another curb to be a superficial thinker if she were she never would have solved one of the great secrets; superficial women don't do things like that. When my mother thinks well, she THINKS."

Exchange of Views Continues
Between French and British Over Subject

Paris, May 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—The latest plans for the settlement of the Upper Silesian controversy, supposedly a British suggestion, is to give Poland and Germany respectively, the communities that voted in their favor at the recent plebiscite, but to hold the entire territory under control of a special commission for 30 years.

Under the plan this commission would be appointed by the League of Nations and at the end of the 30-year period the population of the region would again be given the opportunity to express their wishes.

The exchanges of views between London and Paris on the question are continuing, notwithstanding the debate in the Chamber of Deputies and feeling in French official circles this morning was that the allies were coming together.

CLOSE FRONTIERS.

Berlin, May 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—A new government order imposes a maximum fine of 100,000 marks for illegal recruiting or for organizing military bodies.

Other orders issued completely close the Upper Silesian frontier and forbid the formation of armed troops for action in Upper Silesia.

The miners in the Lower Silesian coal fields have struck and all mines are idle. The trouble is due to a dispute over wages.

PHONE SERVICE
SCHEDULE UPRailroad Commission to Have Hearing

The state railroad commission has directed all telephone companies operating telephone exchanges within the state to show cause at a hearing on June 15 why the commission shall not establish a new schedule of service connection moves and charges.

The proposed change for service connection ranges from $1.30 to $2.50. The instrument is in place and from $2.00 to $2.50 if the instrument is not in place in business hours, and $1.00 to $1.75 if the instrument is in place and $1.00 to $2.50 if the instrument is not in place in residence.

Other proposed changes apply to private branch exchange trunks and to changes for inside moves and changes in type of equipment.

STENVICK BROUGHT IT

Former Postmaster Alleged To Have Held Cameron and Witness to Steal Cars

Minot, N. D., May 25.—Morgan Jevanger, of Minot, appearing as a state witness in the preliminary hearing of E. H. Stenvick, charged with burglary and grand larceny in connection with the theft of automobiles in Minot, in the court of Justice C. B. Davis, testified today that he and C. J. Cameron, of Bismarck, stole two automobiles, one a Cole Eight and one a Buick Six belonging to John Willis from the garage of the Minot Auto company during the night of April 29.

Cameron is an aviator who flew over the state last summer. He and Jevanger are among the men who have been detained while the police were making their campaign to break up stealing of automobiles in this section. Jevanger testified that he met Stenvick a few days before the machines were stolen and Stenvick said that Willis' Buick was a "hot car and if it was taken no one would speak." The same evening he was with Cameron when Stenvick met them and he heard Stenvick say to Cameron that Cameron could take the car and hide it in his (Stenvick's) shed.

Under cross-examination by E. R. Sinker, attorney for Stenvick, Jevanger testified that the Buick was stolen together with the Cole Eight and he and Cameron received $250 each from the sale of the machine which sold for $500. As far as he knew Stenvick did not receive any of the proceeds of the sale. He did not know whether Stenvick had a shed or not and when the car was taken it was hidden in an abandoned barn near Minot. The hearing will take up the remainder of the day.

Frances J. Murphy and Dudley L. Nash are assisting with the prosecution.

HUNGER STALKS IN CAPITAL OF
SOVIET RUSSIAOnly High Officials Said to Escape Pinch of Want

Riga, May 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Moscow is near starvation, says reports from that city, because peasants refuse to sell their corn and are keeping it for seed.

Workers are leaving Moscow to hunt for food in villages. A pound of bread sold for 1,800 rubles two weeks ago and it is declared the price today is 3,000 rubles. Sugar is selling at 18,000 rubles a pound. The Kremlin, the historic castle in Moscow, and present seat of the Soviet commissary, is said to be the only place where oranges is not felt. The high Soviet officials import large quantities of food for their own use twice a week by diplomatic couriers from Latvia and Estonia.

These shipments are made in the guise of "diplomatic baggage" and sometimes amount to whole carloads.

U. S. TREASURER FRANK WHITE
BRINGS STATEMENT FROM MELLON

Washington, May 25.—(By Associated Press.)—A statement endorsing an issue of North Dakota state bonds and purporting to be signed by Frank White, of Valley City, N. D., treasurer of the United States, appearing in newspaper advertisements was declared unauthorized last night by Secretary Mellon in a formal statement.

Treasury officials explained that it was not customary for such an official through endorsement to further the sale of securities other than those of the federal government.

Mr. White, who was confirmed by the senate on April 18, issued no statement.

Governor Frazier and other officials who could be reached today said they had no knowledge of the White statement.

FIRST RECALL PETITION IS SENT TO FARGO

Fargo, May 25.—Beaver Creek township, Steele county, is the first county precinct to turn in recall petitions to independent state headquarters here. The petitions have signatures of more than one hundred per cent of those who voted for O'Connor, it is claimed. O'Connor received fifty-one votes. Fifty-four of those who voted for governor last fall have signed the recall petitions. Steele county gave Frazier a majority of ninety-nine votes last fall.

Local workers in that county professed that there will be more signatures on the recall petitions than there were votes for Frazier throughout the whole county and that the independent candidates and laws will win by a substantial majority at the recall election, according to the independent headquarters' announcement.

Act of Congress

The Foreign Trade Finance corporation organized under a special act of Congress with a capitalization of $100,000,000, to promote trade of the United States with other nations, has made application to the State Blue Sky Commission to sell stock. A hearing will be held Thursday.

The finance corporation was organized by some of the biggest business men of the country, with the announced purpose of conducting it not for personal profit but to aid foreign trade. E. B. Cox, of O'Hare and Cox, who represents the company in making its application to the state board states that it is not the intention to make an active solicitation of stock purchases but to be represented in this as well as other states and to invite co-operation of North Dakota business men in the development of the concern.

REDUCTIONS IN CRUDE OIL MADE

Pittsburgh, May 25.—Further reductions in the price of crude oil were announced here today by the principal purchasing agencies. The new prices: Pennsylvania crude $3.00; Corning, $1.90; Cable, $1.81; Somerset, $1.60; Somerset light, $1.80.

The reductions came as a surprise to oil men who had expressed belief that the bottom of the market had been reached for the present.

SWIMMING POOL OFFERS EVERYONE
CHANCE TO DO WORTH-WHILE ACT

BY BURT FINNEY.

If some philanthropist should contribute a sum sufficient to build a swimming pool for Bismarck, his name would be handed down to posterity as a public benefactor and loved by every boy and girl for years to come. Then right now is an opportunity for every man and woman in Bismarck to become a public benefactor and at a much less amount. While their names may not be handed down as individuals, they will have the satisfaction that good feeling of having contributed to a cause, the necessity of which harks back to the days of the "Old Swimmin' Hole."

Provide boys and girls with clean, safe, healthy sport under the right supervision and their development into clear minded, clean thinking, physically fit men and women is almost assured.

The reports of those who have made a study of boy welfare in the larger cities make it clear that the downfall of many boys is caused by the evil effects of commercialized recreation and an absence of public recreation. What is true in the larger cities is true to a certain extent in Bismarck.

The great executive of today—not the cringing grasping, money-mad type and thank God, there are no longer many such—but the man who really does things is not a boy grown big and broad. Invariably it you but a boy a few years in his life you will find he had the advantage of clean, wholesome sports and today, prizes himself in his physical fitness. A dream for work, a box and a play swimming pool will fit in admirably with additional equipment in the scheme to Boy Scout and Boy Wonder work, none to be inaugurated in Bismarck. A movement to provide physical, mental, social and spiritual training properly directed. A movement embracing equal benefit for the child of poor parents as well as for the child of the rich.

Then in the name of the men and women of tomorrow, our boys and girls, buy a big chunk of Bismarck, contain no family that is not at least one boy and no boy is asked to buy more than his means.

The tool asks: "What is he worth?" The wheel asks: "What is he worth?" A man's money value may be great and yet he may be worth nothing. It is no disgrace to be rich, but it is a disgrace to die without having done something.

Have YOU done something? No? Then buy a big today.

ELECTION TROUBLES

and Unionists Fly Following Election

Dublin, May 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Dublin custom house was set afire by a large number of Sinn Feiners at 1:40 o'clock this afternoon, says a statement issued from Dublin castle at 3 P. M.

By the time the fire brigade attacked the flames they had taken such a firm hold that it was doubtful if much of the building could be saved, said the statement.

It was said that four auxiliary policemen were wounded and seven Sinn Feiners killed, 11 wounded and 45 taken prisoners.

The customs house was still burning late this afternoon.

FIGHTING FOLLOWS.

London, May 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—The custom house in Dublin, says a Central News dispatch from that city, was burned this afternoon. The burning, adds the message, is attributed to Sinn Feiners.

The railway bridge running by the building was occupied by a large number of men upon whom a fusillade was opened. Others in the immediate vicinity of the customs house also were fired on. Lorry loads of the military were bombed as they were driving up to the scene. The soldiers fired guns, rifles and revolvers and several persons were seen to fall. So far as is known three persons were killed.

BOTH SIDES COMPLAIN.

Belfast, May 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Wholesale charges of intimidation and persecution during the building in Ulster for members of the new northern Irish parliament are being made by both the Nationalists and Unionists.

A Nationalist newspaper cites dozens of incidents with names in which it declares that Nationalist voters on the Ballymacrurry across the River Lagan, from Belfast, were beaten on their way to the polls or after voting. Thus preventing others from attempting to cast votes.

The Unionists likewise claim their supporters were prevented from exercising the franchise in Nationalist districts. Neither side appeared to attempt to conceal the fact that persecution was carried on to an unprecedented extent.

SIX SOLDIERS KILLED.

Dublin, May 25.—Six soldiers were attacked by 30 armed men at a coast village in County Kerry yesterday, according to a statement issued by Dublin castle. One of them escaped by swimming out to sea and another by taking to the mountains. The remaining four were captured. Three of them were shot and the fourth was badly wounded.

Three hundred armed Sinn Feiners seized the village of Kilmashagh, Kilkenny. They fortified several houses but fled when police approached. They were pursued, one being killed, one badly wounded and another captured.

FIGHTING IN EGYPT CALMS

Alexandria, Egypt, May 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—There was only desultory firing on the streets of this city last night following the recent riotous disturbances here in which nearly 50 persons, including 12 Europeans were killed and nearly 200 persons wounded.

London, May 25.—Telephone wires between Cairo and Alexandria, Egypt, have been cut says a Central News dispatch from Cairo. No news is coming from Alexandria and disquieting rumors are heard.

Puenos Aires May 25.—Two persons were killed and several wounded in fighting here between union and non-union port workers.

ROBBER CUTS

GETS $15,000

Minneapolis, May 25.—An ingenious robbery here early today provided $15,000 worth of jewelry to the robber who used a brace and bit to gain an entrance to the shop from the second floor of a hotel, where he engaged a room directly over the jewelry store. During the night the robber bored in numerous holes in the floor of his room, cutting away space enough to allow him to drop through to the jewelry store. He escaped to his room, then left the hotel.

Next Fortnight in Effort

KNOX RESOLUTION IS UP

Packer Bills, Wheat Futures and Disarmament Are Big Subjects

Washington, May 24.—A clean-up of pending important measures during the next two weeks is the aim of Republican leaders in Congress to pave the way for consideration of the permanent tariff and tax revision, two of the major subjects for which the present extra session was called. The permanent tariff bill is expected to be presented by the house ways and means committee next month. Prominent among measures scheduled for completion in the next fortnight are the Knox peace resolution, the army and navy appropriation bills, the Good-McCormick bill for a federal budget system, and the deficiency appropriation measure.

The peace resolution is to be taken up by the house foreign affairs committee early this week but Chairman Potter does not expect a house vote before next week. House leaders are leaning toward amendment of the senate measure by declaring merely a state of peace instead of repealing the German and Austrian war declarations. Negotiations with senate leaders are scheduled this week.

Disapproval of the three remaining appropriations bills largely rests with the senate. The house is expected to pass the $100,000,000 deficiency bill tomorrow or Tuesday, and the senate will resume consideration tomorrow of the $495,000,000 naval budget, with the principal controversies remaining over the proposed naval base at Alameda, Cal., and committee proposals to increase the navy personnel by 20,000 over the 100,000 men authorized by the house.

Economy Advocates Busy.
Economy advocates will continue their attacks on the naval bill. An extended address was planned by Senator LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin on "big interests" in armament. The senate also has to act formally on the Borah amendment for a disarmament conference, but its adoption was virtually assured last week. The army supply bill, with committee provisions increasing the regular army from an average of 155,000 men, authorized by the house to a minimum of 178,000 at any time during the next fiscal year is to follow the naval bill.

On the program awaiting the first opportunity for consideration in both senate and house are separate packer control bills. Agricultural advocates on both sides are pressing leaders for legway with prospects of action in a few weeks.

Wheat Trading Up.
Hearings are to begin next Friday, before a senate committee, on the bill to regulate future trading in wheat. There is a movement to include cotton within its scope through a senate amendment. The senate also has pending the Lenroot resolution for a joint congressional commission with powers to make an exhaustive general agricultural survey.

Another session on the Ford-Newberry case is scheduled by the senate privileges and elections committee on Tuesday.

berry, and Alfred Lucking, counsel for Henry Ford, are to discuss whether supreme court dismissal of charges against Senator Newberry should quash further senate proceedings.

Still Following Bergdall.

Other committee hearings include the house inquiry into the escape of Grover Cleveland Bergdall, draft evader. A. E. Smith of the New York Central lines and Howard Elliott, representing the Northern Pacific railroad, are to appear tomorrow in connection with the senate interstate commerce committee investigation of railroad conditions. Hearing also will be continued on the Townsend $200,000,000 god roads bill and on revision of federal employees' salaries.

The nomination of David H. Blair, of North Carolina, to be internal revenue commissioner, which Senator Johnson of California, is fighting, is to come before the senate this week, with confirmation predicted even by opponents.

Make it a point to meet your friends at the New Garrick.

WARRANTS ON COUNTY FUND MAY BE CASHED

Persons holding warrants on the general fund of the county may cash them now. Treasurer J. A. Flow said today.

Mr. Flow has considerable money on hand, transferred by former Treasurer H. P. Knappen by court order. The apportionment to the various political sub-divisions will be made this week, the treasurer announces.

EMPLOYMENT AGENCY COSTS ARE REPORTED

The cost of placement of persons seeking jobs through the state federal employment agencies in the state was $2 cents per placement during April, according to a compilation made by Commissioner of Agriculture Hagan of the work of the Fargo, Grand Forks, Minn. and Bismarck offices. This is compared to a cost of $4 per placement during the war. Jobs were found for 1,231 persons during April. On May 31 the federal appropriation for the offices will cease until July 1 when a new appropriation of $110 a month for the state becomes effective. The offices will continue to do business with the state paying most of the expense.

CONVOCATION OF EPISCOPALIANS IS HELD AT FARGO

Fargo, May 24.—Members of the Episcopal church in North Dakota are celebrating their 37th annual convocation in Gethsemane cathedral, Fargo. The convocation opened yesterday at the 11 A. M. service of Gethsemane cathedral and will continue through tomorrow.

Yesterday's sessions opened with the celebration of holy communion at 7:30 A. M. Rev. D. J. Gallagher was celebrant and the Rev. Pierce Jones acted as deacon. Rev. Mr. Fox of Valley City assisted.

At 9:30 Monday the business session of the convocation opened with and attendance of about 100 delegates included laymen and clergymen. Bishop J. Poyntz Tyler, bishop of North Dakota, is presiding. Reading of reports took place.

Among the speakers in Fargo for the convocation are the Rev. B. T. Kemmerer, New York, E. C. Mercer, and Henry Hadley who recently conducted missions here. Miss Alice Wright, a missionary of the church, Miss Elliott of Cannonball, N. D., worker among the Indians. Also present among delegates is an Indian minister and two Indian layreaders.

The annual laymen's dinner was served by the Men's club of Gethsemane and guests were visiting delegates. An informal reception for delegates and members of the congregation was held at 5 P. M., at the home of Bishop Tyler. The annual meetings of the state guilds and auxiliaries will be held Tuesday.

PIONEER DAKOTA LAWYER DIES AT YAKIMA, WASH.

Fargo, May 24.—Calvin L. Bradley, former North Dakota lawyer, and a pioneer of territorial days in Fargo, died recently at North Yakima, Wash., according to word received in Fargo.

Mr. Bradley started the practice of law with Federal Judge Charles F. Amidon in Fargo under the firm name of Amidon and Bradley and later became associated in the law business with Colonel Benton in this city under the name of Benton & Bradley.

From Fargo he removed to Wahpeton, where he engaged in the law practice with Senator W. E. Purcell. A few years later he left North Dakota for his health settling in Selah, Wash., a suburb of North Yakima, and followed the law business there and in North Yakima.

He is survived by his widow, one son, Roland, and two daughters, Florence and Mrs. Beatrice Metzger.

Visitor Here.

Charles Herman, of Center, former sheriff of Oliver county, was a visitor in the city last night, stopping at the Van Horn.

DAUGHTERS OF AMERICA SUCCESSFUL CONVENTION.

The banquet at the Grand Pacific on Monday evening honoring the delegates and visitors in the state convention of Catholic Daughters of America, was one of the brilliant social affairs of the busy convention season. The program of music, toasts and addresses following the banquet was especially worthy of mention, each person responding in the happiest manner of wit and wisdom. During the evening a lovely arm bouquet of roses was presented the State Regent by the local court, a charming corsage having been presented by the visiting delegates previously. The children's orchestra, playing during the banquet, received great praise and many expressions of appreciation from the visitors and ladies in charge. The following resolutions were offered at the close of the convention which adjourned Tuesday at noon:

Resolved, that this convention go on record as favoring the plan to have "Citizenship Day" an event of prime importance to the newly made citizens of our state, an event that will remain in the memory of those new citizens.

Resolved, that each court of Catholic Daughters of America report on the welfare work of the organization.

Resolved, that the education, help and support of American young men for the priesthood be included in the work of the organization.

Resolved, that members of the organization send expressions to their congressmen and senators at Washington, approving the struggle of Ireland for independent government for her people.

Officers elected for the coming year were: President, Mrs. C. O. Smith; secretary, Mrs. Mahel Brumman; treasurer, Mrs. Francis McDonald; monitor, Mrs. Eleanor Rechart; advocate, Mrs. C. W. Paulson.

Delegates to national convention: Mrs. Eugene Feneion Devils Lakes; Mrs. C. O. Smith, Fargo; alternates, Mrs. Francis Murphy, Minot, and Mrs. Edward Bannon, Bismarck.

BIRD STUDY IS BEING MADE

High School Students Make Early Morning Trips

An interesting study of birds is being made by high school pupils taking zoology and Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, under the direction of Miss Irene Eastman, teacher in the high school, with the co-operation of Russell Reid, a member of the Friends of Native Wild Life society. Tomorrow morning the pupils will make a trip to Willis' garden and on Friday morning will visit the North Ward school and state capital grounds. Twenty-nine different specimens of birds have been listed thus far. Staging with a small number—the study being entirely voluntary interest has grown until between 20 and 30 make the trips, starting at 6 o'clock in the morning. Anyone in the city interested in bird life is invited to join with the party in its trips. Russell Reid has greatly aided the study, and presented the high school with a number of stuffed specimens.

Schebler's Ideal Dairy has discontinued selling milk to Herman Ode since May 20.

GIBSON BROTHERS TO THE MCKENZIE

The McKenzie wishes to announce that they have again secured the services of Mr. Earl Gibson, the popular pianist, who has been at the Multnomah in Portland, Ore., since leaving here, and whom it has been impossible to get until this time, together with Mr. Norman Dybvik, an accomplished Marimba-phone artist, and are again in a position to furnish the high class of music formerly enjoyed. The principal reason for discontinuing the Dinner Dances was due to inability to get the right music, and feel sure that with the talent now available everyone will enjoy the entertainment that again will be furnished.

MADAME LA MAY Clairvoyant

Madame LaMay gives readings on the past and future. Some very skeptical people have been to see her and have had to admit that she is able to do as she advertises. She has located stolen and lost articles and money. The past she brings up so plain and perfect that there is hardly any doubt about the future. If you have lost anything, relatives, friends, articles or money, call on her and she will tell you where they are. The only way to find out is to go and see her and be convinced. You can't find one person, lady or gentleman, that has been to see her, but what will tell you she is all right. At Annex, Room 9.

Hats in Delicate Colorings

For Summer

The beginning of warm days finds every woman looking about for a hat that answers every requirement. It must be light in weight and light in tone to harmonize with the dainty colorings of her Summer clothes.

Her quest is ended happily in our millinery section, where presented now are irresistible Hats of Georgette, Organdie, Taffetas, Moire and Leghorns. Styles and sizes vary, but the same note of economy prevails throughout each showing.

Smart Hats for Sports and Outings

French felt and novel straw braids, Fashion debonair, little sports and Outing hats. Large or small, they shade the eyes. All are moderately priced.

Summer Footwear

In the Summer time one's feet must be prettily shod. Air frocks and sheer silk hose demand it. Lovely to look at, smart, and comfortable are pumps. One strap slippers and oxfords of satin, suede and kid. Choose several pair now and be prepared for any occasion that may arise during the warm weather months. The price range from $6.50 to $12.00

Baby too, needs new things

A visit to our infants' section will prove profitable as well as interesting. Here you will find everything from a pair of tiny booties to a handsome wardrobe made just for baby's personal use. Every article is in combination of quality and price to make it a long remembered value.

It Is Now Time for Planting

Plain seeds and setting out of vegetable plants. Our stock of Geraniums, Heliotropes, Petunias, Marguerites, Pansies, etc., is the best we have ever had and at prices that are right.

In vegetable plants we grow only the best varieties which are adapted to garden use in this Northern climate and have been grown with the idea of having well rooted and thrifty plants when ready to set out. We wish to call attention to the pot-grown vegetable plants listed below. While they cost more than the transplanted, they will bear two or three weeks sooner than the others, and will make a full crop in seasons of early frost. The pot-grown kind are cheap insurance on your crop.

MANDAN NEWS

MANDAN CLUB WOMEN ENTERTAIN SEVENTH DISTRICT FEDERATION

Inspiring speakers and a splendid attendance marked the first day of the annual convention of the Seventh District Federated Clubs, on Tuesday.

Delegates are here from every town in the Slope, arriving Monday and Tuesday by motor or train. A fine representation of the Eighth District Club Women were over from Bismarck for the afternoon and at 7:30 transportation was provided to take delegates to that city where Mrs. Thos. G. Winter, addressed a joint session of the two districts.

The program passed off without a hitch, the central feature being an address by Mrs. Winter, the national president. A most forceful and logical exposition of the aims and purposes of the federated clubs.

Mrs. Bernard L. Wilkinson welcomed the delegates and visiting club women very heartily and a fitting response was made by Mrs. Mark Jones of Beach. Mrs. Lillibridge of Dickinson, who was to have responded at this time, received news of the unexpected death of a sister by drowning just as she was leaving for Mandan.

Dr. L. T. May of the Dickinson normal was most complimentary to the work accomplished by women's clubs in his address, and Mrs. Mark Jones outlined in a practical way the specific things which might be accomplished by concerted action.

Mrs. Lyman N. Cary of Mandan, state president, gave a brief but inspiring message and a group of singing ers from the Mandan Musical club gave two numbers with piano and pipe organ accompaniment, which were most enthusiastically received.

The program for today follows:
1:30—Business.
1:45—(a)—Blow Winds, Abt. (b)—Voices of the Woods, Rubinstein, H. S. Girls Glee Club Community singing led by Audrey B. Miller, supervisor of music, public schools.

2:05—Home Demonstration Work—Mrs. Myrtle Gleason Cole, State Leader Home Demonstration Agents, Fargo.

2:25—Our Greatest Asset, The Child, Dr. Alice Conger Hunter, Dickinson.
2:50—Cycle of Bird Songs, the Woodpecker, the Yellowhammer, the Owl, Liza Lehman, Audrey B. Miller.
2:50—Press and Publicity, Mrs. F. R. Smythe, State Chairman, Bismarck.

3:10—Applied Education, Miss Minnie Jean Nelson, State Chairman, Bismarck.
3:50—Report of Resolutions Committee, Star Spangled Banner.

4:00—Auto ride for delegates and visitors—Visit to the State Training School and Northern Great Plains Field Station.

6:00—Federation banquet, Lewis & Clark hotel.

Wednesday Evening.
8:30 O'clock.

Benefit concert, given under the auspices of the Mandan Musical club. There will be a benefit concert Wednesday evening at the Presbyterian church.

today at the Lewis & Clark Hotel at 12:15. The meeting was presided over by C. R. Robertson, vice president, owing to the absence of President J. M. Hanley.

PUT UP WELCOME SIGNS

Welcome signs and additional markers leading to the tourist camp at the Chautauqua grounds will be placed in a few days. Several improvements will be made at the camp grounds at once. After the park board election it is presumed that the new commissioners will make efforts to further improve the grounds.

ERECT BANDSTAND

Voluntary workers under direction of Agaton Larson sawed lumber for the new bandstand last night. This afternoon at four o'clock the stand will be erected just south of the Methodist tabernacle. It is intended to be used as a stage for the Chautauqua which opens June 28th. The tent can be placed so that the stand will be in position or if necessary it can be moved.

MURDER PUZZLE

Sociologists Study Murder Case of 13-Year-Old Wife

By Newspaper Enterprise.

Farmington, Mo., May 24.—A married woman is on trial on a murder charge in juvenile court here. She is Mrs. Letta Parsons and is only 13.

LETTA PARSONS

She shot her six-year-old stepdaughter to death in their home in Iron Mountain, Mo. The environment to blame for the fact of the child-killer? That's the feature of the case sociologists are interested in.

She was orphaned when a baby. She grew up in the mining town of Iron Mountain, almost like a weed. There she lived until last year. Then she married John Parsons, a young widower with two children, a boy of nine and a daughter, Lily, six.

Household drudgery was not new to the girl-bride, but mothering two children only a few years younger than herself was a new problem and vexation.

Last March she was combing the little girl's hair. The child fretted, and ran from the house.

Mrs. Parsons picked up a shotgun standing in the kitchen and shot the girl to death.

Was this act the result of childish temper? Or was it due to a mental condition caused by a life that had contained little of childhood's joys?

These are the things the state of Missouri and sociologists are trying to determine.

WHY SONS SO OFTEN RESEMBLE MOTHERS

BY GERTRUDE C. DAVENPORT, of the Carnegie Station for Experimental Evolution.

The fact has long been known that children get some of their traits from the mother's and some from the father's family.

Only lately we have learned these traits are not transmitted in haphazard fashion.

Based on their hereditary behavior most traits fall into two great groups. One group dominates the other.

Brown eye color, for example, is one of these dominating traits; for, if one of the parents has inherited brown eyes from both sides of his family, all of the children will have some grade of brown eyes, even though the other parent has blue eyes.

The blue eye color that has receded from view may reappear again in subsequent generations, under favorable combinations.

These two great groups of traits are transmitted equally either by the father or the mother.

Another class.

There is still another class of traits transmitted to the sons through the mother alone.

They are called sex-linked traits.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound

IT IS JUST WHAT CHILDREN ought to have for feverish colds, coughs, "snuffles," and that tight, wheezing breathing. It stops croup, too. It cures and checks whooping cough, measles cough and bronchial coughs.

Every User a Friend.
"My little son had been having the croup every few nights, so I began giving him a few drops of Foley's Honey and Tar every two or three hours. The night he slept well, never coughed any more and next day he was gone."
—Mrs. R. M. Ranley, Stanford, Ky.

"My three children had a very severe attack of whooping cough. The first few doses of Foley's Honey and Tar gave them great relief, and it did them good."
—Mrs. E. C. Hoeller, Grand Island, Neb.

Foley's Honey and Tar has been used for more than thirty years in thousands of homes for relief from coughs, colds, spasmodic croup, tickling throat, hoarseness, whooping cough, bronchial coughs and the coughs that follow influenza or a gripe.

traits, then the son has a double chance of a good inheritance; whereas his sister's chances are only even, since the sister inherits equally from the father and the mother.

Because of this exact mechanical procedure girls, in the long run, are more like their fathers than are their brothers.

Sons, therefore, have more to gain or lose in the choice of the mother than do the daughters.

Biographies are crowded with examples of sons who have risen through their maternal inheritance to eminences never attained before in their father's family.

Horatio Nelson, the great English admiral, is one such illustrious example. On his paternal side Nelson came from a long line of easy going clergymen. He inherited from that line piety, a profound sense of honor and duty and intellect of a high order. His mother is said to have had "some force of character." His mother's brother, Maurice Suckling, was an ambitious naval fighter. Another kinsman, William Suckling, was a rear admiral and a cousin, Maurice, was in the royal navy.

Moreover, Nelson's great-grandmother was Mary Walpole, a sister of Robert Walpole, England's great prime minister. Some of the Walpoles were also gallant naval officers.

Hence on the mother's side there was ambition, capacity, drive, a love of travel and adventure, all of them traits that seem to have been handed down to Horatio Nelson.

Be Sure to Keep Blood Pure In Summer

Nature intended all creatures to withstand the normal changes of the seasons. You never saw a wild animal collapse from heat, did you? People wouldn't get "knocked out" either, if they had the vitality animals get from their blood.

Rich, wholesome blood gives bodily vigor, and if hot weather lays you low, start now to fortify your vitality with a good tonic that will drive the impurities out and leave your blood stream nourishing and robust. S.S.S., the well known herb alterative, is fine for this; get it from your druggist today. Then write us about your condition, addressing Chief Medical Advisor, 843 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga. We will send you free medical advice suited to your individual case.

POPPIES POPULAR.

Because of the many gatherings of out of town people in Bismarck this week, the campaign put on by the Legion, the Auxiliary, and the War Mothers is becoming thoroughly advertised, many ladies carrying back to their home towns, both supplies of the poppies and enthusiasm for spreading the campaign in their own vicinities.

Dr. Bolton Henry, chairman of the poppy week committee, reports that directors for each day have been greatly encouraged. Mrs. Henry Murphy reported sale of over 3,000 of the gay little emblems on Monday; Mrs. A. M. Fisher and her young helpers had an excellent sale yesterday. Mrs. Dill B. Register and Mrs. F. Elmer Hedden are directing the sale today, but the otherwise joyfully welcome rain may dampen their ardor a bit. However, both ladies are cheerful young workers and good results will no doubt be reported. Mrs. W. E. Cole and Mrs. A. A. Jones will take charge of the sale Friday, while the Saturday's campaign will be a general affair, and so on through Memorial day on Monday next, when it is confidently expected that every resident of Bismarck and surrounding country will wear a poppy to say that the battle fields of France, with their honored dead, are not forgotten.

The funds accrued from the sale of the poppies will go to caring for disabled soldiers, care of the graves of the dead and such good and patriotic uses as the American Legion finds for the money.

MRS. OBENDORFER ON WESTERN TRIP.

Mrs. Marx Obendorfer, national chairman of the Department of Music in the general federation of women's clubs, who visited Bismarck last October during the state meet, will pass through this city tomorrow morning en route to points west. Mrs. Obendorfer will join Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, the national president of the Federation of Clubs, who spoke here last night, upon reaching Butte, Mont. From that point both the national officers will get on to Salt Lake City to attend an executive meeting of national officers.

Mrs. Emma Wheeler, president of the national district including four states, has been wired to join Mrs. Obendorfer here and journey with her a short distance for a conference on their work in music for the national federation.

MRS. LOGAN HOSTESS

Mrs. Austin Logan and Daughter, Irma were hostesses Tuesday evening at a beautifully appointed five-course dinner complimentary to Miss Anne Louise Atkinson. Bowls of pink sweet peas decorated the table and room, and the color plan was farther carried out by dainty pink organdy flower favors.

Master James Taylor carried in a pink flower basket to the honor guest, in the heart of each flower was concealed a gift from the hostesses. Each guest gave the bride-to-be her favorite recipe and a verse on "How to Manage Your Husband by the Experienced and Inexperienced." Miss Esther Taylor sang the old "Heart Songs" during the evening.

HETTINGER VISITORS.

Mrs. M. O'Neill and Mrs. O. Eriksen of Hettinger, spent a few hours in Bismarck yesterday and visited the Eighth District meeting of federated clubs, returning to Mandan in the afternoon, where they are delegates at the Seventh District meet in our neighboring city.

SILVER TEA THURSDAY

A silver tea will be given by the ladies of the Presbyterian Aid on Thursday afternoon May 26, at the home of Mrs. Robert Orr, 8 Ave. A. A program will be given during the afternoon and a very cordial invitation is extended to all ladies of the city. Strangers especially welcome.

BAPTIST AID THURSDAY

The Baptist Ladies will hold their social meeting Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Newcomb. All ladies are requested to bring their scissors.

TO ALL EX-SERVICE MEN

On Sunday afternoon, at 2 P. M. it is your duty, to pay memory to those who made the supreme sacrifice for country; by being in the Memorial Parade.

Can you neglect this duty, and still have a clean conscience?

Can you pay memory to your sleeping Comrade, assuring him that you are keeping the Faith, if you deny him this Honor?

Every Legion Member and every service man, who is in Bismarck on Sunday. Be at Legion Hall, at 2 P. M. in uniform and if you haven't the uniform be there anyway and show, that we at least haven't forgotten.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

St. Elmo Lodge No. 4 will entertain a delegation from Washburn Lodge No. 32 at its Castle Hall on Wednesday evening, May 25th. Work in the Rank of Knight will be exemplified and refreshments served. Don't miss this meeting.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

MAYBE IT BELONGS TO YOU

About $30,000,000 in bank deposits, the owners of which cannot be found, are dormant in American national banks.

Now and then, some heir gets wind of one of these forgotten bank accounts—and the accumulated interest is so staggeringly large in some cases that it jolts many people into habits of thrift.

Back of this money is more romance, mystery, intrigue and crime than all the movie scenario writers in Kingdom-Come could think up in a year.

Plenty of people are absent-minded, but their lapse of memory seldom extends to hard-earned simoleons salted in the bank. Sudden death, misadventure or criminal flight often are back of forgotten bank deposits.

Whenever one of your near relatives dies, make it a point to find out every bank where he carried a deposit. Go to that bank and learn whether there's a balance. You might find a windfall.

Lloyd George and Asquith are a couple of baffling names for the poet laureate of England to hunt rhymes for.

THE ETERNAL MYSTERY

A sweet-pea seed, after lying dormant 5,000 years in the clenched hand of an Egyptian mummy, was taken to Cincinnati and planted in the garden of Mrs. Samuel H. Taft.

The seed sprouted. It produced flowers and more seed—enough to help buy a mummy for the Cincinnati Museum.

The same has been done with wheat found in ancient tombs.

What is the mysterious thing in those seeds that could sleep 50 centuries without dying?

Answer that and you solve the Eternal Mystery: What is life?

Life—creature of machinery so fragile and minute that even the microscope cannot discover its secrets—is more lasting than granite.

Some man, some woman, placed in a tomb 5,000 years ago, still live in you?

Were they extinguished? Or, like the Egyptian seed, do they merely sleep, awaiting some final awakening?

Not as interesting as baseball or the movies—but it will be when you get old and the undertaker seems to smile whenever he sees you.

WEALTH AND DEBTS OF THE NATIONS

The financial statistician of Commerce and Finance has compiled some interesting figures, showing the wealth and debts of the leading nations of the world.

A study of these figures ought to give Americans rather comfortable feeling when they compare their lot with that of the citizens of other nations.

The countries dealt with are the United States, Great Britain, France, Russia, Italy, Japan, Germany and Austria-Hungary.

The estimated total wealth of all eight is a thousand billion dollars. The wealth of the United States is estimated at five hundred billions, or exactly one-half the total.

The total debts of the eight nations is two hundred and fifty-seven billion dollars, or more than 25 per cent of their total wealth.

The total debts of the seven nations other than the United States is two hundred and thirty-three billion dollars, or about 46 per cent of their total wealth.

The total debt of the United States is, roughly, twenty-four billion dollars, or less than five per cent of its total wealth.

The British debt is almost double ours—about 20 per cent of its wealth.

France owes fifty-one billion dollars, 51 per cent of its wealth. Italy owes nearly twenty billions, about 50 per cent of its wealth. Russia owes about twenty-five billions, 42 per cent of its wealth.

The figures for Germany and Austria-Hungary seem almost incredible.

The former's debt is 312 per cent of its wealth, and the latter's 2710 per cent.

Bankruptcy is a mild word to use in connection with the financial situation of Austria-Hungary.

Little Japan is the only nation in the lot in the same class with the United States. Although her national wealth is but forty billions, as compared with our five hundred billions, her debt is less than two billions, slightly under ours in percentage.

GROW YOUR OWN FURS

Fur farming is one of the odd industries gaining rapid headway in our country. About 10,000 silver foxes are being bred in captivity on 215 fox ranches, says a government report. Exact figures, however, are not obtainable, for many of the fox ranchers are afraid to fill out the questionnaires sent them by the Bureau of Biological Survey, thinking it has something to do with a new tax.

Nearly every northern and western state has for ranches, and our domesticated fox industry is now larger than Canada's.

With fur-bearing animals being rapidly killed off by trappers, another 50 or 100 years may see the United States raising the bulk of its fur inside tall wire fences.

Picture your great-grandson motoring into the country some afternoon to buy his wife a fresh fox or mink pelt, along with the usual eggs and hard cider.

When a woman sets out to prove her superiority to rival she does not make herself plain.

To avoid municipal jealousy, they might call her Galli in New York and Curci in Chicago.

Could it be that some of these coal profiteers, too, are merely "borderland" defectives?

Essa Habib, New York peddler, was arrested 80 times in a year. It's almost a habit with Habib.

Sir Thomas Lipton would feel encouraged if they'd race Harding's houseboat against the Shamrock.

One of the sad sights of life is man getting out his old whiskey bottles and rinsing them to accumulate one farwell kick.

A boy has a tough life. Just as the baseball season gets well under way, he has to begin cramming for school exams.

Japanese matches may no longer be called "tandsticksfabriks." The Oriental has been hiding his light under a Swedish bushel.

The prediction that "light wines and beers are coming back" is strangely similar to the ear of corn dangling from a stick tied to a donkey's head.

Business men who have over their desks that sign, "1921 will reward fighters" are beginning to fear that it refers only to the Dempsey-Carpentier bout.

Maybe Nevada lengthened the residence provision in its divorce law, because Reno boarding-house keepers wanted their transients to stick awhile.

Uncle Sam tries to borrow $200,000,000 and bankers rush up with $582,100,000. Think that over before converting your Liberty Bonds into speculative stocks.

Congress voted to close children's rooms in Washington library—"for economy's sake"—and, also, because children can't vote.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

WAITING FOR EUROPE TO JELL

It has been observed of President Harding that he can contemplate a tangled snarl of wet fishline as long as anybody. He does not rush at and grapple with any trying, difficult, complicated, complex and intricate problem of disentanglement. He regards it with patience and gravity. He waits to see what will happen. He lets nature take its course for a while. Nothing is permanent in this disordered world, and many wounds and hurts heal by first intention. So they say letters, if left unanswered long enough, will answer themselves. It is one way of doing things and Mr. Harding seems to like it. Whatever its merits or demerits as a policy, it has brought for the present, at any rate, great repose to Washington.

The same process holds good in cooking, I believe. Things are put in a pot and the pot is put on a hot fire until it begins to boil and bubble and threaten to run over and spill everything. At this moment, says the discreet cook book, put the pot on the back of the stove and let it simmer. Then serve when ready garnished to suit the taste. This is precisely what Mr. Harding has done with the rancorous League controversy.

He hasn't the world vision or any lust for world management. He hasn't any recipe for curing sick Europe. Besides he has got enough chores to do here at home to make his head ache when he thinks of them. Mr. Harding is waiting for Europe to jell.—New Republic.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

The Fairyman dropped into his bed at once.

"Now think what each of you should like best," said the Fairy Queen to Nancy and Nick and Flippety-Flap, the little fairyman with the enormous shoes who had helped the kiddies (or rather they had helped him) to gather up the circus animals way off in the Land-of-Ever-So-Far-Away. "I wish to give you a reward for helping me so nicely. Just think! If it hadn't been for you there wouldn't be any more circus this year than there is snow from last winter. And that's all gone, ages ago."

Flippety-Flap blinked his eyes and yawned. Then he stretched and yawned again. "If you please, your royal highness," said he, yawning a third time, "I'd like a nice, large, soft feather-bed, without any dreams in it. I'm as tired as poppy-juce and if you look in the books you'll find that's awfully tired. These shoes—they're so big 'n' so full of things, 'n' so heavy 'n' all that I do believe I'll have to have a solid rest for a summer or so to catch up. I see to myself, sez I, 'Flippety-Flap, old boy, you've got everything useful in these shoes of yours, but a bed. If the Fairy Queen ever offers you a present, you say to her, 'Yes, ma'am, I need a rest and a bed.' So if you'll just make it a bed, your highness, we'll call it a day and thank you kindly."

So the Fairy Queen told Spill-Quill her secretary, to phone to Hammer-Down, her carpenter, to send Flippety-Flap his best bed. Which he did. The fairyman put it into his shoe, carried it home and dropped into it at once. I think he's asleep yet.

"What would you like?" the Fairy Queen asked the twins.

WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE'S FAREWELL TO DAUGHTER

AN EDITORIAL FROM THE EMPORIA (KAS.) GAZETTE

The reports carrying the news of Mary White's death declared that it came as the result of a fall from a horse. How she would have hooted at that! She never fell from a horse in her life. Horses have fallen on her and with her—"I'm always trying to hold 'em in my lap," she used to say. But she was proud of few things, and one was that she could ride anything that had four legs and hair. Her death resulted from a blow on the head which fractured her skull, and the blow came from the limb of an overhanging tree in the parking.

The last hour of her life was typical of its happiness. She came home from a day's work at school, topped off by a hard grind with the copy for the High School Annual, and felt that a ride would refresh her. She climbed into her khakis, chattering to her mother about the work she was doing, and hopped to get to her horse and be out on the dirt roads of the country, air and the radiant green fields of the spring.

As she rode through the town on an easy gallop she kept waving at the people. She passed everyone in town, for a decade or so. The figure with the long pig-tail and the red hair ribbon has been familiar on the streets of Emporia, and she got in the way of talking to those who nodded at her. She passed the Kerrs, walking the horse in front of the Normal library, and waved at them; passed another friend a few hundred feet further on, and waved at her. The horse was waiting, and as she turned into North Merchant street, she took off her cowboy hat and the horse swung into a lope. She passed the Triplets and waved her cowboy hat at them, still moving gaily north on Merchant street.

A Gazette carrier passed—a high school boy friend—and she waved at him, but with her bridle hand; the horse veered quickly, plunged into the parking where the low-hanging limb faced her, and, while she still looked back waving, the blow came. But she did not fall from the horse; she slipped off, dazed a bit, staggered and fell in a faint. She never quite recovered consciousness.

But she did not fall from the horse, neither was she riding fast. A year or so ago she used to go like the wind. But that habit was broken and she used the horse to, get into the open to get fresh, hard exercise, and to work off a certain surplus energy that welled up in her and needed a physical outlet. That need has been in her hearts for years. It was back of the impulse that kept her dauntless, little brown-clad figure of this community and built it into a strong muscular body what had been a frail and sickly frame during the first years of her life.

But the riding gave her more than a body. It released a gay and hardy soul. She was the happiest thing in the world. And she was happy because she was enlarging her horizon. She came to know all sorts and conditions of men; Charley O'Brien, the traffic cop, was one of her best friends. W. L. Holtz, the Latin teacher, was another. Tom O'Connor, farmer-politician, and Rev. J. H. Rice, preacher and police judge, and Frank Beach, music master, were her special friends, and all the girls, black and white, above the track and below the track, in Peppville and Stringtown were among her acquaintances.

And she brought home riotous stories of her adventures. She loved to rolicke; persiflage was her natural expression at home. Her humor was a continual bubble of joy. She seemed to think in hyperbole and metaphor. She was mischievous without malice, as full of fun as an old shoe.

No angel was Mary White, but an easy girl to live with, for she never nursed a grudge five minutes in her life.

With all her eagerness for the outdoors, she loved books. On her table when she left her room were a book by Conrad, one by Galsworthy, "Creative Chemistry," by E. E. Slossen, and a Kipling book. She read Mark Twain, Dickens and Kipling before she was 10—all of her writings. Wells and Arnold Bennett particularly amused and diverted her. She was entered as work with all her enthusiastic heart. Her drawings were accepted and her pride—always repressed by a lively sense of the ridiculousness of the figure she was cutting—was a really gorgeous thing to see. No successful artist ever drank a deeper draught of satisfaction than she took from the little stage her work was getting among her schoolfellows. In her glory, she almost forgot her horse—but never her car.

For she used the car as a jitney bus. It was her social life. She never had a "party" in all her nearly 17 years—wouldn't have one, but she never drove a block in the car in her life that she didn't begin to fill the car with pick-ups! Everybody rode with Mary White—whites and blacks, old and young, rich and poor, men and women.

She liked nothing better than to fill the car full of long-legged high school boys and an occasional girl, and parade the town. She never had a "date," nor went to a dance, except once with her brother, Bill, and the "boy proposition" didn't interest her—yet.

But young people—great spring-breaking, varnish-cracking, fender-bending, dog-sagging carloads of "kicks"—gave her great pleasure. Her zests were keen. But the most fun she ever had in her life was acting as chairman of the committee that got up the big turkey dinner for the poor folks at the county home; scores of pies, gallons of slaw; jams, cakes, preserves, oranges and a wilderness of turkey were loaded in the car and taken to the county home.

And, being of a practical turn of mind, she risked her own Christmas dinner by staying to see that the poor folks actually got it all. Not that she was a cynic; she just disliked to tempt folks.

While there she found a blind colored uncle, very old, who could do nothing but make rag rugs, and she rustled up from her school friends rags enough to keep him busy for a season.

The last engagement she tried to make was to take the guests at the county home out for a car ride. And the last endeavor of her life was to get a rest-room for colored girls in the high school. She found one girl reading in the toilet because there was no better place for a roll-over girl to loaf, and it inflamed her sense of justice, and she became "naming names" to those who, she thought, could remedy the evil.

The poor she had always with her and was glad of it. She hungered and thirsted for righteousness; and was the most impious creature in the world. She joined the Congregational church without consulting her parents; not particularly for her soul's good.

She never had a thrill of plety in her life, and would have hooted at a "testimony." But even as a little child she felt the church was an agency for helping people to more of life's abundance, and she wanted to help. She never wanted help for herself.

SUCCESES

By Barton Braley.

They have never had much money, they have never won a "ame, But their lives I'd call successful in the big and vital way; And whatever was their fortune, they have met it as it came; They have known their share of sorrow, but their hearts are young and gay; They have hoped and dreamed together, they have laughed and they have wept; And their love has never failed, and it will not, till the close; They are old and bent and wrinkled, but through all the years they've kept The pollen on the butterfly, the dew upon the rose.

Somewhat their simple annals have a savor of romance Since they joined their hearts in marriage more than forty years ago, For they still can find a magic in a touch or in a glance And the glamor of the honeymoon has never lost its glow; They are only common people with a common sort of life; They have worked in hum-drum fashion as their calm demeanor shows, But through all their plodding progress they have kept, as man and wife, The pollen on the butterfly, the dew upon the rose.

To their brood of sturdy children they gave love and trust and care And they taught them truth and honor and to walk the path of right, To their friends—and friends were many—they gave out a goodly share Of a warm and sweet affection and a cheer forever bright; To each other—understanding, faith of every question free, And the little flame of passion which was mated always known, So they've kept their dream unfaded, they've preserved for all to see The pollen on the butterfly, the dew upon the rose! EVERETT TRUE BY CONDO

HAD TO RUSH TO WINDOW TO GET HER BREATH

Grand Forks Woman Had Awful Smothering Spells—Tanlac Restored Her

"I feel like it would be a positive wrong if I didn't tell people what I know about Tanlac," said Mrs. Stella Zepke, 1302 Dell avenue, Grand Forks, N. D.

"It certainly is the best medicine in the world for stomach trouble. Nobody knows how I suffered for two years from indigestion. Everything I ate seemed to disagree with me. Why, even a piece of toast would cause discomfort. At times I thought I was smothering and would have to run to the window for fresh air so I could get my breath.

"I nearly always had a pain across the small of my back and at night would lie awake for hours suffering agony. I felt so weak and miserable I had to give up all thought of doing any housework. Tanlac made a complete change in my condition. It has given me the best appetite I ever had in my life, and soothed and toned up my stomach so I can eat anything I please without any bad after effects.

"I am sleeping better and feeling better than I have in years, and I am so happy that my troubles are over. I just can't find words to express my gratitude. I wish I could put a bottle of this medicine in the hands of every person who is suffering like I was, for I know it would mean both health and happiness for them just as it has for me."

Clothes meant little to her. It was a fight to get a new rig on her; but eventually a harder fight to get it off. She never wore a jewel and had no ring but her high school class ring, and never asked for anything but a wrist watch.

She refused to have her hair up; though she was nearly 17. "Mother," she protested, "you don't know how much I get by with my braided pigtails, that I could not with my hair up."

Above every other passion of her life was her passion not to grow up, to be a child. The tom-boy in her, which was big, seemed to loath to be put away forever in skirts. She was a Peter Pan, who refused to grow up.

Her funeral yesterday at the Congregational church was as she would have wished it; no singing, no flowers save the big bunch of red roses from her Brother Bill's Harvard classmates—Heavens, how proud that would have made her! and the red roses from the Gazette force—in vases at her head and feet.

A short prayer, Paul's beautiful essay on "Love" from the thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians, some remarks about her democratic spirit by her friend John H. J. Rice, pastor and police judge, which she would have deprecated if she could, a prayer sent down for her by her friend, Carl Nau, and opening the service the slow, poignant movement from Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata, which she loved, and closing the service a cutting from the joyously melancholy first movement of Tchaikowski's Pathetic Symphony, which she liked to hear in certain moods on the phonograph; then the Lord's Prayer by her friends in the high school.

That was all. For her pallbearers only her friends were chosen: her Latin teacher, W. L. Holtz; her high school principal, Rice Brown; her doctor, Frank Fossan; her friend, W. W. Finney; her pal at the Gazette office, Walter Hughes, and her brother Bill.

It would have made her smile to know that her friend, Charles O'Brien, the traffic cop, had been transferred from 6th and Commercial to the corner by the church to direct her friends who came to bid her good-by.

A rift in the clouds in a gray day threw a shaft of sunlight upon her nervous, energetic little body as it sank to its last sleep. But the soul of her, the glowing, gorgeous, fervent soul of her, was flaming in eager joy in some other day. —W. A. W.

AT THE MOVIES

AT THE REX

The Rex Theatre presents the popular favorite, H. B. Warner today in "Dig of Destiny," a high class melodrama of the underworld tale of romantic, dramatic and thrilling moments in the life of a clever crook who wanted to be on the level.

John Moroso, a well-known newspaper writer, wrote the novel, "The People Against Nancy Preston," from which this Jesse D. Hampton-Fathe feature has been directed by Henry King.

The cast includes the beautiful and charming Hampton leading lady, Lillian Rich; Rosemary Theby, Howard Davies, Frederick Huntley, Harvey Clark, J. P. Lockney and Claude Payton.

The Sapphire Girls vaudeville offering will be the "Isle of Bogie Boo" a clever little musical comedy with Mike and Ignatz in two great parts as an added attraction the comedy offering will be "The Guardian of the Accolade" by O. Henry.

ELTING SHOWING CHARLES RAY. Charles Ray as Hoshiah Howe, a hard working farmer boy of happy disposition, with a widowed mother and sister to provide for has a play in "Peaceful Valley" which furnishes the best of opportunity for him to display his remarkable ability along the lines which have made him famous. During the course of the story Hoshiah becomes greatly infatuated with a beautiful girl who is stopping at a nearby summer hotel. The young lady taking an interest in him makes it possible for him to attend a dance where he is seen in one of the imitable Charles Ray, side-splitting dancing exhibitions. The picture contains both the humor and pathos of previous Ray productions. Showing at the Elting today and tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday.

MARKETS

BEARISH EFFECT.
Chicago, May 24.—Rain in some sections of Kansas had a bearish effect today on the wheat market. Opening quotations, which varied from 1-3/4 cents decline to 3-4 cents gain were followed by a decided setback, although interrupted by moderate transient upturns.

Subsequently news of severe crop damage in Missouri sent the wheat market sky-rocketing.

May and July deliveries both touched the highest point yet this season. May in which business was light went nearly 10 cents above the previous top. Prices closed unsettled 2-1/4 cents net lower to 1-1/2 cents net advance with May 17 3/4-3/8 to $1.80 and July 17 3/8-1/2 to $1 1/4-3/4.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK.
Chicago, May 25.—Cattle receipts 1,000. Very slow. Bulk beef steers, $7.75 to $8.50.

Hog receipts, 27,000. Fairly active. 15 to 25 cents lower.

Sheep receipts, 13,000. Slow. About steady on best lambs.

ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK.
South St. Paul, May 25.—Cattle receipts, 6,000. Extremely slow and weak. Killing classes mostly 15 to 25 cents lower. Common to good beef steers, $6.25 to $8.25. Bulk, $6.50 to $7.50. Butcher cows and heifers, mostly $4.50 to $6.25. Veal calves 50 cents higher. "Packer" top, $7. Stock-cows and feeders slow, weak to lower.

COUNTY SHORT ON READY CASH FIGURES SHOW

Unable to Make Entire Apportionment to Sub-divisions of the County

ADVANCES BEING MADE

A check up on the apportionment money due the various political subdivisions of the county has been made by persons interested in both sides of the case in which some local taxpayers brought mandamus proceedings against H. P. Knappen, retiring treasurer, to compel the return to the treasury of money placed on certificates of deposit in the Bank of North Dakota.

According to attorneys for the taxpayers the apportionment money due the political sub-divisions of the county amounts to $359,339.01, while the treasurer had an open account with the Bank of North Dakota $251,495.70. The county treasurer thus is short about $100,000 in meeting the apportionment, it is said.

Several fund placed on certificate of deposit by Mr. Knappen, and which is involved in legal controversy, is $150,000.

Treasurer J. A. Flow said that advances are being made to the political sub-divisions as far as possible, but that, according to the figures, the entire amount cannot be paid until the $150,000 placed on certificate of deposit becomes due or the courts finally order the money returned.

Ledger Balance.
Mr. Knappen was ordered by District Judge Nussle to return this money, the certificates being held invalid, but the case is to be appealed to the supreme court.

The ledger balance shows the condition of the various funds as collected by the treasurer and which are to be as follows:

York, S. C., May 25.—Tom J. Nichols, 72, wealthy farmer, likes to fish just as well as he did 50 years ago.

He led a party recently fishing for carp with seines in Calawaha river.

He caught 70 pounds and Nichols stayed in the water up to his waist for half a day. He didn't catch cold, either.

TRYENE, QUEEN OF MINING CAMPS, NOW EMPTY SHELL

Tryene, N. M., May 25.—Tryena, queen of the mining camps of the state, built at a cost of $3,000,000, and given an artistic atmosphere through the influence of Mrs. Cleveland H. Dodge, is an empty shell.

A few short months ago 4,500 men, women and children worked, lived and enjoyed life in what probably is the most beautiful mining camp in the world. Now the Phelps-Dodge corporation big copper mines are closed, there is no ore awaiting shipment, no means of livelihood remains, stores have been closed, inhabitants are leaving, the railroad has served notice that trains no longer will run.

Within a short time only a dozen men, left to guard the mines and their expensive machinery, will be left. Even the Phelps-Dodge Corporation general store has been shipped to Douglas.

Closing of the town, however, is considered only a temporary measure, according to company officials, who point out that the shutdown will continue as long as the copper market remains in its present state of stagnation.

A hospital, theater, library, elaborate school building and one of the best electric lighting and power plants in the state are among the town's attractions.

SPORT BRIEFS

Rube Schaner, of Garrison, N. D., pitched Minneapolis to a victory yesterday over Toledo. The score was 7 to 3, and the Mudhens got but eight hits off Rube. It was Schaner's first full game of the year.

Wrangling marred the St. Paul-Columbus game yesterday and First Baseman Burns was ordered off the field in the eighth.

Gainer's home run over the right field fence with one on gave Milwaukee a 6 to 4 victory over Louisville.

Babe Adams, veteran Pittsburgh pitcher, was knocked out of the box yesterday by the Giants.

Philadelphia Nationals climbed out of the cellar yesterday, and Cincinnati took her place.

Elmer Yargan, last year's home run hitter of the Western League, took Schalk's place for the White Sox yesterday and drove out doubles, scoring one run, himself and driving in two others. Mulrennan, recruit pitcher, held Washington safe and the White Sox won 6 to 5.

JOE LYNCH IS SUSPENDED BY STATE BOARD

New York, May 25.—Suspension of Joe Lynch, world's bantam weight champion, was announced by the New York state boxing commission, which stated that Lynch and his manager, Eddie Meade, had been suspended pending further action by the Massachusetts state board of boxing which previously had suspended them on a charge of violating a contract to box at Holyoke, Mass., April 20.

Three pugilists receiving thirty-day suspensions by the commission because they had been disqualified for committing fouls, were Earl Baird of Seattle, Billy DePoe of St. Paul, and Mike Al-tique of New York.

The license of Jack Dillon, Indianapolis middleweight, has been revoked, it was announced, as an examination showed that he was not in proper physical condition to box.

WANT WILTON GAME

The prison baseball team is after Wilton for a game. Art Bauer, who is looking after the prison team, declared today that after seeing Pitcher, Wilton pitcher, work in this city his prison boys are confident they could knock him out of the box.

ROPER LONES BOUT

New York, May 24.—Dan O'Dowd of Boston received the judges' decision over Captain Bob Roper of Chicago after a 15-round bout in Brooklyn last night.

GIBBONS' FIGHT IN FIRST

Camden, O., May 25.—Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul heavyweight, knocked out Jack Heenan of New York in the first round of a scheduled 12-round bout last night. Heenan, who substituted for Dick O'Brien of Cincinnati, was floored seven times.

FITZ BESTS CARBONE

Tulsa, Okla., May 25.—Young Fitzsimmons of Oklahoma City last night received the referee's decision over Frank Carbone of New York, in a fast 15-round bout here. Fitzsimmons out-boxed and outstaged the easterner in nearly every round. They are middleweights.

DEMPSEY MUST PAY BILL

Philadelphia, May 25.—A jury decided here yesterday that Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion boxer, must pay $500 more to Dr. Herbert Goddard of this city for an operation performed on his nose in September, 1919. The award represents the remainder of a bill for $1,000 for the operation. Dempsey was not in court.

First Test Case in Sunday Baseball in South Dakota

Redfield, S. D., May 25.—A verdict of not guilty was returned by a jury in Judge A. S. Gillett's court in the first test case on Sunday baseball in South Dakota.

The action was brought against the Redfield baseball club as a result of a game played at Tulsa between Redfield and Brookridge-Webster last Sunday. The state introduced eight

WHY YOU NEED IRON—

To make you strong and "brainy" and put the power into your blood to overcome disease germs

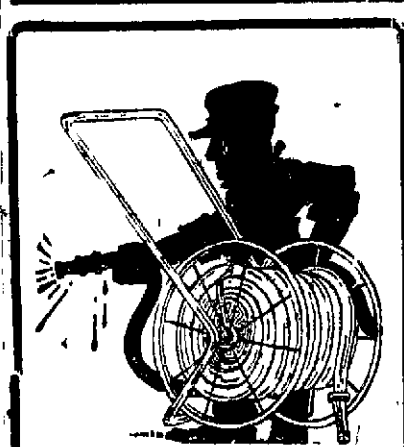

PRACTICAL ADVICE ON HOW TO DEVELOP GREAT ENERGY AND ENDURANCE

The food you eat contains carbon. When your food is digested it is absorbed from the intestines into the blood. When the carbon in your food comes in contact with the oxygen carried by the iron in your blood, the carbon and oxygen unite and by so doing they give off tremendous energy, thereby giving you great force, strength and endurance. Without iron your blood carries no oxygen and without oxygen there is nothing to unite with the carbon in your food, so that what you eat does you no good—you do not get any strength from it—it is like putting coal into a stove without a fire. You cannot get any heat unless the coal unites with the fire.

The strongest weapon with which to prevent and overcome colds, pneumonia, kidney trouble, rheumatism, nervous prostration, in fact almost any disease or disease germs is plenty of good rich, pure blood, strength, energy and endurance and the greatest energy carrier in the body is organic iron, not metallic iron which people usually take, but organic iron like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples and like the iron contained in what is known as organic Nuxated Iron, which may be had from almost any druggist.

If you have been taking metallic iron without benefit such is no proof that organic Nuxated Iron will not help you. Nuxated Iron often increases the strength, energy and endurance of weak, nervous, run down folks in two weeks time. It is such an extremely valuable product that even the Pope at Rome wrote especially of its merits in a communication to the Pharmacologic Normale. It has been used and highly recommended by former United States Senators, Members of Congress, Judges of U. S. Courts, many physicians and prominent men.

Over 4,000,000 people are now using it annually. Satisfactory results are guaranteed or the manufacturers will refund your money. Sold by all druggists in tablet form only.

RULES OF PIG CLUB ANNOUNCED

Boys and Girls of County May Compete for $50 Prizes

Rules and regulations governing the boys' and girls' purebred Duroc Jersey Pig club contest in Burleigh county have been issued by the First National Bank, of Bismarck. Boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 18 may enter the contest, which will be supervised by an authorized person. All pigs will be purebreds and will be registered free of all charge to the club as soon as the pig has become six months of age if the pig is in good condition at the time. The parent of the member must promise the club member suitable feed and a place to keep the pig.

A club day will be held, and all members will exhibit their pigs. Prizes of $25 for first place, $15 for second and $10 for third will be awarded, and the best pigs will be chosen for exhibit at the Mandan fair.

Great interest is expected to be aroused among the boys and girls of the county in the contest. As a precaution to the boys and girls arrangements have been made for the placement or partial cost of replacement in case a pig should be lost through no fault of the owner.
